ABOUT JOHANN VEXO

Born in 1978 in Nancy, Johann Vexo studied organ with Christophe Mantoux, historical music with Martin Gester and harpsichord with Aline Zylber Ajch at the Conservatoire à Rayonnement Régional of Strasbourg, where he was awarded first organ prize.

Johann Vexo

After being admitted to the Conservatoire National Supérieur de Musique of Paris, he perfected his studies with Michel Bouvard and Olivier Latry, and won the first organ prize and the first basso continuo prize. In parallel, he took writing classes, winning the harmony and counterpoint prizes.

In 2004, Johann Vexo was granted the position of organist for the Choir Organ of the Cathedral of Notre-Dame de Paris. Since 2009, he is also organist of the Cathedral of Nancy. He holds the Aptitude Certificate and teaches organ at the Conservatoire à Rayonnement Régional of Angers and at the European Music Masterclasses in Nancy.

He is also regularly invited to perform many concerts and to give master-classes, both in France and abroad (Europe, USA, Canada, Russia). Johann VEXO has recorded several CDs on historical french organs, especially one for JAV recordings on the great organ of Notre-Dame de Paris.
